

Fistfight in Capitol Corridor Follows Arrest of John Sullivan for Contempt of State Senate; Seventeenth Session Has Feverish Finish

CLOCK TURNED BACK REPEATEDLY AS SOLONS STRIVE TO FINISH ELEVENTH HOUR BUSINESS

More Than Eight Million Appropriated for Governmental Purposes—Usual Frolic Follows as House Session Adjourns at 6:51 This Morning—Bitterness of Last Twenty Days Abates in Lower House as Calendar Is Cleared. Audit Report Stirs Up a Conflict

The 17th legislative session ceased its deliberations at midnight, official time, 6:51 o'clock this morning by correct time and 10:45 p. m. by the house clock, which had been turned back several times while legislators were striving to complete the business of the session.

Worn out by an almost continuous session of 20 days, impassioned debate, endless conferences and anxious waiting as the fate of important measures were disposed, a bare quorum of members gathered in little knots and discussed the last bits of legislation to gain the right to go to the Governor.

Earlier in the evening when fist fights occurred in the corridors while crowds ran to and fro between the senate and house seeking excitement, members found time to indulge in some of the usual hilarity typical of the last hours of all assemblies. Songs in dialect, tossing of books and papers and a few tussles here and there summed up the horseplay as the bitterness of the session faded away. Ink wells were removed from the desks earlier in the evening to prevent an over enthusiastic solon splashing the halls of the assembly. The hilarity faded in the last minutes when bitter charges were made over the house audit committee's work. While the members left early in the morning, Speaker Twichell and Representative Shipley returned at 10:00 a. m. with clerks and completed clerical work and adjourned sine die.

It was 6:51 o'clock this morning when the 17th legislative assembly recessed three hours to adjourn sine die. Officially the session expired at midnight, but the clock was turned back.

The closing night of the session, always attended by unusual incidents, was sensational last night in its fist fights, bitter debates, long conferences over bills and was accompanied by the usual hilarity of singing of songs. The ink wells were removed from the desks early in the evening by some employees who have seen "last nights in the legislature in previous sessions."

Many important measures were enacted before the assembly ceased its labors.

Among them were: Senate bill No. 25, the general budget bill, carrying appropriations of about $6,200,000 for the two years beginning next July 1.

House bill No. 25, reducing the exemption from taxation on residence property and on farm implements and machinery from $1,000 to $500, and limiting the tax levies of political subdivisions in any one year to the average amount raised during the years 1918, 1919 and 1920, permitting the calling of a special election to increase the amount not more than 25 per cent and permitting the amount to be increased 30 per cent by school districts without a special election.

House bill No. 202, providing a person serving a life sentence for first degree murder may not be pardoned before serving one-half of his normal expectancy of life, except where pardon board views him innocent.

Senate bill No. 163—For a constitutional amendment fixing legislators' salaries at $1,000 for two years.

Senate bill No. 18—Re-enacting present state pool hall license law and permitting employment of additional inspectors, giving them police powers and allowing appointment of unlimited number of investigators to enforce laws.

Senate bill No. 48—Providing for classification of acre property for taxation.

Senate bill No. 172—Fixing salaries of county officials, increasing minimum to $1,500 and maximum to $3,000.

House bill No. 212—As amended by senate, creating public depositories, allowing Bank of North Dakota to be depository.

House bill No. 71—Providing if real estate taxes are not paid March 1 only one-half becomes delinquent before October.

Defeat of appropriation to pay for Bishop, Brismarck Audit report made after Nov. 2, for which public subscription was taken.

Appropriating $35,000 to continue Immigration Department work.

Appropriation Bill. The appropriation bill was not, as is usual, the last bill acted on, but it was one of the last. The differences between the senate and house were settled in conference committee after house consideration, and the reports were adopted in a manner satisfactory to majorities in both bodies, and without little dissent.

The appropriation bill introduced in the senate carried appropriations of $8,600,000 for two years. As the bill left the senate it carried about $8,600,000. As the house passed it, the bill carried about $8,000,000 and it was finally adopted it carried nearly $8,200,000, it was said, although accurate figures were not available. The conference committee settled the difference over the educational institutions with but few changes. A new law building was provided for the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks, a $80,000 gymnasium authorized for the Valley City Normal and a $100,000 wing authorized for the

LEGION PROTEST CAUSES CHANGE

Last night Senator L. R. Baird read a communication from the American Legion national headquarters saying this German propaganda was being spread through the country. The senate revoked its action.

County Officers Salary Bill Passes in Legislature

The county officers salary bill, which passed the legislature in the closing hours, provides a minimum salary of county officials of $1,500 a year and a maximum of $3,000. The bill which goes to the governor classifies the salaries as follows:

Class No. 1—Auditor, sheriff, treasurer, county superintendent—in counties less than 5,000 population, $1,500; from 5,000 to 6,000, $1,700; 6,000 to 7,000 population, $1,800, and $40 for each additional population to maximum of $3,000 annual salary.

Class No. 2—Register of deeds, county judge, state's attorney, clerk of counties—in counties less than 5,000 population, $1,500; 5,000 to 6,000, $1,700; 6,000 to 7,000 population, $1,800, and $40 annually for each 1,000 additional population to maximum of $3,000.

In addition it is provided that in counties of over 17,000 the state's attorney may employ an assistant at compensation to be fixed by the county commissioners.

It was further provided that no present officials should have their salaries reduced during their term of office by the bill. Generally, the bill increases county officers' salaries.

LEAGUE GIVES CAPITAL CITY LIGHT PLANT

House Votes to Consolidate Two Power Houses at Penitentiary

TO HAVE WHITE WAY
Authorize Bonds in Sum of $250,000 for New State Project

Bills of the utmost importance to the city of Bismarck passed in the legislature in the last night's session.

Included in these was the bill appropriating $100,000 to complete Liberty Memorial building on the capitol grounds, house bill No. 124, permitting the state to consolidate the state electric plants and furnish electricity in the city, and portion of this bill and house bills Nos. 136 and 137 providing for methods of acquiring water plants.

House bill No. 134 held the stage in the legislature frequently from the time it first arose in the afternoon until it was passed along after midnight, with the clock set back. The final vote was 57 to 53 for the bill.

House bill No. 134 originally provided for the acquisition of a water company by eminent domain. Amended by the senate it also provided that "the state of North Dakota is hereby authorized to engage in the enterprise of furnishing electricity for power and lighting purposes to the inhabitants and public of the city of Bismarck, and of the county of Burleigh and to supply electricity to all buildings owned or leased by the state of North Dakota in said city and county and to the state street car line; and in the same manner the industrial commission of the state of North Dakota shall have power and is authorized to consolidate the two separately electric plants, one at the state capitol and the other at the state penitentiary, and locate same on the state penitentiary grounds near the city of Bismarck, and to manage and operate the same, and to make and enforce rules, orders, regulations and by-laws for the operation thereof, and for the transportation of said business, said commission shall utilize prison labor as far as possible."

The commission is authorized to fix the rate for furnishing current for power and lighting purposes, and authorizes the issuance of $250,000 bonds.

To Make City Bright.
One of the effects of the bill, according to some of its local proponents, is to obtain for Bismarck a "white way" to and across the Bismarck-Mandan bridge that the city and county would not be able to sustain. Many angles entered the fight on the bill, the most frequently cited argument, however, being that the state electric plant would make Bismarck the best lighted city in the northwest and would furnish light for the "white way" and the new bridge.

The fight on this measure opened yesterday afternoon. The galleries in the house of representatives were packed, and the local residents made known their views in cheers and in recitals. The bill was fought hard by many independents on the ground that it was creating another state industry. During the afternoon when votes were taken on motions arising out of the bill there were charges hurled back and forth.

The bill finally went to the calendar, being at the foot. Many attempts were made to bring it to the top of the calendar, but they failed, although on several motions leading to this the vote was 57 to 55. Representative Bauer, Lackey and Nathan, independent, swung their support to the bill, and aided in the mustering of 57 votes for the final passage.

Townpeople There.
During the afternoon the majority of the people in the galleries apparently favoring the bill became so loud in their demonstrations that threats were made to lock the galleries and Rep. Shipley turned to the crowd and appealed to their good judgment "as citizens of North Dakota" to maintain quiet.

There were charges made of false roll calls.

Memorial Buildings.
The Liberty Memorial building appropriation provided $200,000 additional to the $200,000 appropriated in 1919 for the construction of the building at the capitol grounds and the historical park. The house cut the $200,000 to $100,000 despite the protests of Burleigh county representatives. The basement of the building now is completed, and the structure and accompanying historical gardens will make a beautiful spot on the capitol grounds.

The water bills were designed to give the city power to proceed to condemn the property of the local water company. Whether the power is adequate under the bills as amended is a matter in dispute among some attorneys and local people who urged the passage of the bills.

Senator Lodge and Rep. Mondell Call on White House for Conference

SHIFT-SENATE SEATS

Washington, March 5.—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Rep. Mondell, Republican house leader, called at the White House in the early afternoon to discuss with President Harding the calling of a special session.

An entire rearrangement of seats were made necessary owing to the many desks moved from the Democratic to the Republican side, but there was not room enough so that some of the Republicans will have to sit on the Democratic side.

BASKETBALL IS BIG GAME HERE THIS EVENING

Bismarck and Mandan Meet in Local High School Gymnasium

Sixty hundred and seventy-five tickets have been sold for the Bismarck-Mandan basketball game to be played in the local school gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock.

There are no more tickets for sale, and haven't been for two days. With three teams entered in the district tournament here local fans were sure Bismarck and Mandan would meet again and the tickets were sought early.

Bismarck defeated Steele, third entry in the tournament, 35 to 4, last night. The Steele team, in bad condition through illness of two players was no match for the locals.

The winner of the game tonight participates in the state tournament at Minot.

Supt. Laemmle, of Ashley, brought his basketball squad to Bismarck to see the teams in action.

HUGHES TAKES UP COSTA RICA-PANAMA TASK

Washington, March 5.—The Panama-Rican situation was the first subject taken up today by Charles Evans Hughes, after he had taken the oath as secretary of state. He spent an hour in conference with his under secretary and then went to the White House.

Mr. Hughes spent more than an hour with the president in his talks with Mr. Davis he is understood to have expressed full approval of the ordering of warships sent to both ends of the canal zone to guarantee protection to American interests, which it was believed might be endangered by the controversy.

The island of Yap situation it is understood, was also discussed. The new secretary was reported to have expressed approval of the action of the state department in the controversy regarding cable communications on that island.

HOUSE PROBE ATTORNEY GETS JAIL SENTENCE FROM SENATE; RELEASED BY SUPREME COURT

Murphy and Mandan Attorney Refuse to Be Questioned Regarding Expenses of House Investigation. Kositzky, Former State Auditor, Caught in the Fracas, Sustains Black Eye and Scratches. Sullivan Hurls Defiance at Senator Lederbach—Is Detained in Dark Cloak Room Instead of Dungeon to Avoid Mob in Rotunda of State House

The Senate which throughout the session had fallen behind the house in spectacular thrills, in its closing hours last night easily made up for the time it had lost. The net result was several black eyes and a Mandan attorney under arrest by the senate for contempt until released by Judge Birdzell of the state supreme court on habeas corpus proceedings after being sentenced to jail.

The senate investigation committee has attempted for several days to get the house investigation committee attorneys, Francis Murphy and John F. Sullivan, to testify before it but the house committee ordered them not to do so, holding that the senate committee had no power to probe the activities of the house.

Old Law Case Given as Motive by Charles Rock, Assailant

GIVE MEDICAL TREATMENT

Washington, March 5.—Former Senator Hendrickson of Nevada was shot through the wrist today by Charles Rock, a former resident of Nevada. The senator was given medical treatment and his assailant was locked up.

Rock, who is 65 and lives in Tacoma told the police that 25 years ago the former senator was counsel for him in a land case and that the shooting was due to that.

THREE BROTHERS SENTENCED TO STATE PEN

Fargo, Mar. 5.—Sentences of three years in the state penitentiary at Bismarck for Ludvig Frirer, charged with cashing worthless checks, one year for his brother, Max Frirer, one the same charge and one year for another brother, Eugene Frirer, charged with grand larceny, were imposed by Judge A. C. Cole of the district court when the three brothers, arrested during the last week, pleaded guilty.

Court officials said today that this was the first case in the history of North Dakota where three brothers were sentenced to terms in the state's prison and began serving their terms on the same day.

Ludvig Main Offender.

Ludvig Frirer, whose home was formerly in Fargo, is alleged to have deserted recently from the navy. The complaint made by the state charged him with writing worthless checks to the amount of several hundred dollars signing Fargo men's names to them and with his brother Max, a roofer working for a Minneapolis firm, cashing them on grocery stores in Fargo and Moorhead. Eugene Frirer was a porter at a local hotel and was charged with the theft of a violin and some men's clothing.

Four in One Week.

Sentencing of Max and Ludvig Frirer for check-forgey makes four men who have been sent to the penitentiary during this week on that charge. Jerome Patterson having been given 14 months at Bismarck and Fred Riley one year by Judge Cole on Tuesday.

David Wornick, arrested by the sheriff's department Tuesday charged with having burglar tools in his possession, pleaded guilty late yesterday and was sentenced to a term of six months in the Cass county jail.

Nelson Found Guilty.

Ole Nelson found guilty by a jury in district court yesterday on a charge of assault and attempted robbery in connection with the attempted holdup of Mrs. Mahle Talle on the night of Feb. 12 last, will be sentenced by Judge Cole tomorrow.

A civil case, that of J. J. Meyers against Henry G. Twaeten, involving the payment of a note for $1,500 given to the Citizens State bank of Barnesville, Minn., was started before Judge Cole and a jury this morning. After the trial started Judge Cole dismissed the jury and will try it as a court case.

POLICE KILL THREE

Dublin, March 5. Police guards escorting prisoners to Dublin castle were fired upon. Returning the fire they killed three.

Refuses to Be Sworn.
The president of the senate, after the service of the summons had been refused, issued warrants for the arrest of the two and Staale Hendrickson, marshal of the committee. The attorneys were attending a motion picture show when J. B. Mineover, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, placed them under arrest. They did not resist and proceeded with him to the senate chamber, where the senate was killing time, waiting for the house to clean up its overloaded calendar.

Mr. Murphy was the first of the men called. He announced that he refused to be sworn. Senator Lederbach, chairman of the senate committee, moved that he be sworn and be compelled to answer questions. Mr. Murphy then requested an opportunity to consult his attorney, who he said was Mr. Sullivan. After a conference, he announced that his attorney had instructed him to refuse to be sworn as he was a defendant under arrest for a crime and could therefore not be asked to answer questions.

Sensor Baker of Benville, a member of the committee then moved that Mr. Murphy be released from custody and be questioned. The motion carried. Mr. Murphy quietly walked from the bar of the senate where he had been standing, up the main aisle, stopping to get his overcoat and by the sergeant-at-arms standing by the door before his action had been detected.

Seaman on Firing Line.

Presiding Officer Wood ordered the sergeant-at-arms to bring the attorney back. With that, the crowd which packed the rear of the senate chamber started for the doors, not to miss anything. Seaman Smith, former sheriff of Golden Valley County and later an appraiser for the state bank, tried to keep Carl Kositzky, former state auditor, from getting out. Versions of the fracas vary as to the next movement.

Seaman Smith is said to have been laid out in the mix-up. While this affair was in progress, Floyd Lofthus, son of O. E. Lofthus, state bank examiner, is said to have come up from behind Kositzky and struck him in the back of the head. Kositzky turned sharply and Lofthus angled off for the law library. The former state auditor found him there and mauled him, it is said.

Feeling Fine.

Mr. Kositzky said this morning that he was feeling well and that he guessed that Lofthus suffered fully as much as he did. Outside of a black eye and two or three mean scratches on the face, he looked none the worse for the encounter.

The sharp reports of the blows were distinctly heard in the senate chamber. Mr. Sullivan rushed out, thinking that perhaps Mr. Murphy and the sergeant-at-arms had clashed. Most of the seaholders followed until Lieut. Gov. Wood rapped for order and directed the doors to be closed.

In the Fracas, Mr. Murphy easily made his getaway.

The senate moved that a warrant be sworn out for Mr. Murphy's rearrest. Mr. Mineover, the sergeant-at-arms, looking through the big windows at the doors leading out into the rotunda at the aroused mob wrangling outside, was not keen about the unrestrained activity but Senator Lederbach shouted for him to go and get the warrant from the attorney general's office.

Try to Swear Sullivan.

An attempt was then made to swear Mr. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan informed the president of the senate that he had retained as his attorney Mr. Murphy and that he believed that the gentleman had left the room but as an invitation had been issued for his return, he expected that he would soon be back and asked the proceedings be suspended until his return.

Won't Wait.

The presiding officer ruled against any waiting for an attorney. Mr. Sullivan then asked for five minutes to explain why he refused to be sworn. This was denied him. He then asked for three minutes. Senator Pioneer of Barnes put this in the form of a motion and Senator Murphy of Washburn another member of the investigating

MANY TRADE PROBLEMS

Washington, Mar. 4.—Rejection of the treaty of Versailles, a sharp fight on President Wilson by Republican leaders, adoption of the woman suffrage constitutional amendment and passage of the prohibition enforcement act were outstanding features of the sessions of the Sixty-sixth Congress which passed out today to make way for the Sixty-seventh Congress, which is called in extra session by President Harding.

Swept into control of both the senate and house near the end of the war after President Wilson had appealed to the country in 1918 to return a Democratic majority to Congress, the Republicans organized all committees at the opening session in 1919 and immediately launched an attack on the administration. This centered around the Treaty of Versailles, which was taken up in the senate before it was signed at Paris.

Other acts of the administration which came in for criticism included the sending of troops to Russia, the handling of deportation cases and the winding up of war contracts. Investigations of many phases of war activities also were undertaken and continued through most of the nearly two years of the life of this, the first Republican Congress in eight years.

Four votes of important measures by the president also were overridden by the Sixty-sixth Congress. The measures repealed after their disapproval by Mr. Wilson included the prohibition enforcement act and joint resolutions reducing the size of the regular army to 175,000 men, repealing the daylight savings law and reviving the War Finance Corporation.

In the case of one important matter, the Knox resolution to declare the state of war with Germany at an end, the presidential veto stood.

Besides the war inquiries many others were conducted, including those into the 1919 steel strike, the spread of radical propaganda, the coal and housing situations, the controversy between Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Sims over naval medal awards, campaign expenditures, Shipping Board operations, the Ford-Newberry election, radical deportation cases, and the escape to Germany of Grover Cleveland Bergdahl, Philadelphia draft evader.

International disarmament was a subject occupying much attention at the closing session, inquiries being conducted by both house and senate committees. Final action was deferred and the whole question left over to the Harding administration. The Senate Naval Committee recommended, however, that there be no halting of American naval construction at this time.

Important measures passed by the Sixty-sixth Congress, besides the prohibition enforcement law, the suffrage amendment, and the resolution to revive the War Finance Corporation included:

- The Transportation Act.
- The Merchant Marine Act.
- The Edge bill for foreign finance corporations.
- The oil and gas leasing laws.
- The army reorganization act.
- The water power development bill.
- A bill abolishing the United States Housing Corporations.

In addition the usual annual supply measures were put through and preliminary ground work was laid by the house of Ways and Means Committee for revising both the tariff and tax laws.

There were three sessions of the Sixty-sixth Congress. The first, an extraordinary one called by President Wilson by cable from Paris after failure of some of the big appropriation measures in the preceding Congress, met on May 19, 1919, and continued just six months, to Nov. 19. The second session, a regular one, began on December 1, 1919, and continued to June 5, 1920, ending just before the national political conventions. The third and final session began last December 6, including the sessions during the war and earlier. Congress has been sitting virtually in continuous session for a decade.

The Versailles treaty was the great bone of contention during both the first and second sessions. It was twice defeated, first on Nov. 19, 1919, and again on March 19, 1920, when, by a vote of 47 to 37, it was returned to President Wilson. The Knox resolution to end the state of war with Germany then was adopted and, on May 27, 1920, killed by a presidential veto.

The treaty debate began May 23, 1919, four days after the new Congress convened. The treaty was reported to the senate, with the Lodge reservation, Sept. 4, 1919, and the senate closure rule adopted for the first time since its existence, on Nov. 15. During the treaty fight President Wilson made a tour of the country, beginning Sept. 3, 1919, which ended with his illness, Sept. 28.

At the second session bi-partisan conferences of senate leaders failed to bring an agreement on reservations and with debate renewed in February 1920 the final vote on ratification March 19 was 49 to 35, less than the two-thirds majority. The national presidential conventions and the popular "solemn referendum" followed. No effort was made to obtain action on the treaty during the session which ended today.

The first session was signalized by efforts to deal with the high cost of living. At that session also Congress conferred the permanent rank of general upon General Pershing, but has declined to pass bills giving Maj. and General March, chief of staff, and Crowder, former provost marshal general, the rank of lieutenant general. Bills to give permanent rank of Admiral to Rear Admirals Benson and Sims also failed.

Also during the first session, Victor Berger, the Wisconsin socialist, was unseated by the house and, during the second session, he again was denied a seat after his reelection at a special election.

At the second session the house passed bills to provide a bonus for war veterans and to amend the tariff and internal revenue laws—to abolish luxury and other taxes—but they failed in the senate, which at that session also rejected President Wilson's proposal for an American mandate over Armenia.

The third and last session was devoted principally to appropriation bills, with economy as the watchword. Huge slashes were made in departmental estimates by the sub-committees of the enlarged House Appropriations Committee which for the first time handled all of the regular supply measures.

An emergency tariff bill designed to protect farmers as well as an immigration control bill to dam the flow of immigrants from Europe was passed by the house, but they failed in the senate.

TWO LOAVES OF BREAD

can look exactly alike, but one can contain 50% more food value than the other, mainly because the good one is made from flour carrying a large percentage of gluten, the main food constituent of high grade wheat—for good bread can only be made from good flour. This is one reason why HUGHES HOME MADE BREAD, Rolls, Pie, Cakes, etc., are of a superior value. Others are the skill and sanitary care used in mixing the dough and baking.

SERIOUS OPERATION

Leeth, No. Dak.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I was sick in the month of October, 1919, and I called on a surgeon who advised that I must have an operation, and unless an operation was performed I would have to die. For two weeks I waited and worried, getting ready to undergo that operation. I was so worried that I could not sleep nights, suffering a great deal. I met a person who told me that if I would go and see Dr. Enge, he probably would tell me that I need not be operated on. I called on Dr. Enge and took adjustments and my trouble has entirely left me. Doctors had told me that if I was not operated on I would have to die. I am very thankful to Dr. Enge for what he has done for me, and I give this testimonial that others might escape operations when they are not necessary.

Yours very truly,
MRS. ANDY PETERSON.

Good Weather is Ahead

Last month—about the time the Ground Hog was poking his head out of the hole to renew the ancient controversy about his prophetic ability—close observers of business conditions received an infinitely more trustworthy forecast of good business weather ahead.

The size of one of the largest nationally circulated publications was increased from 115 to 148 pages to accommodate national advertisers who offer the public articles of every-day need.

This indicates returning confidence, and proves that business men are going after business with renewed energy.

Our patrons among local business men have always had confidence in this institution to cooperate with them in their efforts to hasten the return of good business weather.

MANY AMBASSADORSHIPS

Postmasters Comprise Bulk of Patronage for Immediate Action

Washington, March 5.—Upwards of 50,000 appointments to public offices carrying salaries aggregating more than $100,000,000 a year are to be made by President Harding. Some of these were made today; many others will be announced during the next few months while still others will be made as the terms of present Democratic office holders expire.

The first fruits from the shaking of the official "plant" tree were cabinet officers whose salaries are $12,000 a year each. Others to come include nearly a dozen ambassadors whose salaries are $17,500 each; many ministers at $10,000 each; assistant secretaries, federal judges, attorneys and marshals; customs collectors; members of various government bureaus by the thousands.

In contrast to the huge patronage roll of Mr. Harding are the appointments of Vice President Coolidge, whose immediate appointments comprise only his secretary, clerk, page boy and a private telegraph operator. Their salaries total $7,700 a year. The Vice President himself receives $12,000.

As is the usual custom, ambassadors and ministers now serving are expected to present their resignations to President Harding immediately as he may have a free hand in creating his own diplomatic corps. There are 44 ambassadors and ministers but some of these who have risen from the ranks in the diplomatic service may be retained and practically all of those now in service will continue in office until their successors are named and qualify.

Among ambassadorships regarded as certain to be filled by Mr. Harding are those to Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain, Japan, Belgium, Brazil, Chile, Argentina, and Peru. Many new ministers also are to be appointed and when full relations are re-established with Germany, Austria, Mexico, Turkey and Bulgaria appointments also will be made to those countries.

Among ministers now holding office who have come up from the ranks in diplomatic service are William Phillips at the Hague; Hugh Gibson, at Warsaw; Richard Crane, at Prague; Joseph G. Grew, at Copenhagen; Peter Augustus Jay, at Salvador; Hoffman Philip, at Bogota, Colombia; and Arthur Bailly-Blanchard, at Port-Au-Prince, Haiti.

Among appointments in immediate or early prospect are seven members of the Shipping Board at $12,000 each; two members of the Interstate Commerce Commission at $12,000 each; five members of the federal reserve board at $12,000 each; three members of the Tariff Commission at $7,500 each; two members of the Federal Trade Commission at $10,000 each; some of the nine members of the Railroad Labor Board at $10,000, and four members of the Federal Farm Loan Board at $10,000 each.

Four of the nine Supreme Court Justices also may be appointed by President Harding. Chief Justice White and Associate Justices McKenna, Holmes and Day now are eligible, by both age and length of service to voluntary retirement. The salary of the chief justice is $15,000 and that of associate justices $14,500.

Postmasters comprise the bulk of Presidential patronage. There are nearly 50,000 postmasterhips remaining in the Presidential class, although President Wilson placed many in the civil service. All have four year terms and it is estimated that President Harding will appoint something like 15,000 during the next year as the Republican majority in the Senate refused confirmation to several thousand postmasters as well as other officials, including members of the Shipping Board, during the last session of Congress.

Although not classed technically as patronage, the President has the selection of officials for many choice places in the army and navy, through recommendations for promotion. Among these are chiefs of War Department bureaus, including the Chief of Staff and eleven majors and twenty-two brigadier generals. Selections of general officers made by President Wilson were hindered in the summer of 1919 in the republican blockade of Mr. Wilson's nominations, and these appointments now will be made by Mr. Harding.

In various executive branches of the government, the Department of Justice leads in patronage, with a roll of about $130,000, including a Solicitor General at $10,000, one assistant to the Attorney-General at $9,000, seven other assistants at $7,500 and solicitors for the other departments.

In the Treasury Department, the principal plums are Treasurer at $8,000; the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at $10,000; the Prohibition enforcement commissioner at $7,500, the Comptroller of the Treasury at $6,000; the Controller of Currency at $5,000; the Director of the Mint at $5,000 and several departmental auditors at $4,000.

General are the best jobs in the Post Office Department subject to political change.

In the Interior Department, an Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Lands, Patents, Pensions and Education at $5,000 each, a Commissioner of Indian Affairs at $4,500 and Directors of Mines and Geological Survey at $6,000 each are the cream of appointments.

In the Department of Labor, an Assistant Secretary at $5,000; Commissioners of Labor and Lighthouses at $6,000 each; the director of the census at $6,000; the Immigration Commissioner General at $5,000; the Commissioner of Fisheries at $6,000 and the chief of the children's bureau at $5,000 comprise the principal patronage.

Three members of the Civil Service Commission at $4,500 and two at $3,000 and a public printer at $5,000 are other choice presidential plums. Also there are Mexican and Canadian commission members with big salaries.

Many positions of honor without salaries also are to be filled by President Harding. Among these are appointments to the Commission of Fine Arts, the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics, the Geographic Board, the Federal Electric Railways Commission, the Pan American Commission and the Hague Court.

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.

Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

Do You Know a Baby Sick With Constipation

Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

NO thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.

When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and feverish, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. It is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and few cautious families are ever without it.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Originally the bill provided that the tax levy of any county, city or other political subdivision should not exceed one-fifth of the amount raised by taxation in the five years, 1916-1920 inclusive. It was amended to provide one-third of the amount in 1918, 1919 and 1920. Speaker Twitcheell fought the first proposal saying that it meant that many cities should not function on the amounts proposed.

Depository Law.
It appeared that the state would have no public depository law, as conference appointments of the senate and house were unable to agree upon senate bill No. 117. In the gray dawn of morning Rep. Granger told the senate that a depository law was essential for the state, and since the conference were unable to agree he suggested that house bill No. 212, amended to suit the senate, be passed. This was done. Under this measure bids are taken by local banks and the Bank of North Dakota may be a depository.

Chairman Granger, who was on the conference committee on senate bill No. 117, said that many concessions had been offered by the house conference but the senate refused them.

Anderson's Bill.
One of the last bills to get through the legislature was house bill No. 86, introduced by Representative Victor Anderson, of Burleigh county. It was a reconditionation of the co-operative laws of the state and had been worked out by Rep. Anderson to aid in the development of those institutions.

Governor Frazier had vetoed no bills thus far. He has 15 days after the end of the assembly in which to act on bills coming to his hands in the last rush.

FAILED IT THIRTEEN TIMES BEFORE FOR-TUNE SMILED ON HIM
By WHIT HADLEY

Five years ago Toney Ivan Moss of Oklahoma City was down and out. He was 35, married, and had failed in 17 occupations.

On this day he had $2.80 and a pet monkey. He spent the money and then went to a friend to raise more on the pet.

"My friend, a bicycle repair man, was mending a punctured tire as I entered," he says.

"While waiting, the monkey fell to examining the contents of a table and tipped over a can of rubber cement. I cleaned the rubber from his paws and absent-mindedly started rolling a little ball of the stuff between my fingers.

"It gradually became stiffer. My friend was having trouble with the puncture and I suggested plugging the hole with this ball of soft rubber. He laughed but tried it. It worked."

For Your Blood

You are just as strong and healthy as your blood. It is likewise true that you are as young as your arteries. Vigor and health come with good blood. Without good red blood one has a weak heart and poor nerves. It may show in nervousness or in that weak, tired feeling. If your blood is thin and watery, face pale or pimply, if you are generally weak, tired and listless, a vegetable tonic should be taken. One that will do the house-keeping, an old-fashioned, herbal remedy that was used by everybody 50 years ago is still safe and sane because it contains no alcohol or narcotic. STENOGRAPHERS LEAVE.

The young women employed in the senate and house during the legislative session leave for their homes today. Of those in the senate, Miss Emily Dalton, desk stenographer, Miss Aslang Wik, Miss Eleanor Marx, and Miss Mary Kerber leave this afternoon for Fargo. Mrs. Stephen Terhorst goes to her home in Donnybrook, accompanying her husband, Stephen Terhorst, a desk clerk in the senate. Miss Gladys Hurvey is the only Bismarck girl in the senate group.

In the house, Miss Luella Pannebaker, who acted as supervising stenographer, leaves today for Fargo. Miss Myrtle Rossis another Fargo girl on the staff leaving today for her home. Miss Geraldine Vernonson goes to Medora, Miss Beile Benson to Plasher, and Miss Clara Anderson to Cogswell. Miss Amanda Nelson and Mrs. Blythe Hall were the Bismarck stenographers in the house group.

A very happy feature of the closing hours for the house stenographic staff was a gift from the girls to Miss Pannebaker, as an expression of their appreciation of her services as supervisor for the session. Miss Pannebaker held a similar position in the house stenographic center in the session of 1919.

NUTRITION CLASS POPULAR.

That Miss Hobart's nutrition class for children on Saturday mornings is exceedingly popular was shown today when forty earnest little boys and girls hurried off from their Saturday morning play to present themselves at the clinic held in the Civic rest room. Here the children were weighed and measured by Miss Hobart, food specialist from the Agricultural College. Many of the children had entered the class at a previous meeting and already had a score card started. The point is to show by their weight and measurements that the foods, etc., prescribed by Miss Hobart "make good." The children are given scores to keep at home and some have already shown marked improvement. The star pupil so far is Shirley Penner, whose chart shows wonderful gains in physical development. Other little tots are crowding her in the test and another few weeks will show many in Shirley's class.

The mothers are urged to come to the mothers' class at an hour apart from that of the children's work, so that Miss Hobart may discuss individual cases with them. At the next meeting of mothers Miss Hobart will take up digestion and digestion troubles of children.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE.

Mrs. A. W. Jansa was hostess at her home on Second street Thursday evening at a parcel shower for Mrs. William Paulson, a bride of the month.

Fifteen girl friends of the bride called and a jolly evening was enjoyed. A real "wedding supper" was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Margaret Ingram. A bride's cake was a prominent feature of the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulson have recently returned from their wedding trip, the marriage having occurred at Billings, Montana. The bride was Miss Grace Brittin, has many friends in Bismarck who will welcome her back. She was until recently a member of the attorney general's office staff, under Attorney General Langer.

MACCABE'S ENTERTAIN.

A large crowd gathered at the home of Mrs. B. Saylor, 348 Mandan avenue, to enjoy the second of a series of card parties given by the lady Maccabees. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the national colors and ferns. Progressive 500 was played, the prizes going to Mrs. Foley and Mrs. Thurst.

Out of the guests were Mrs. Soltz and daughter and Mrs. Allen, from Mandan.

A social hour followed and a dainty lunch was served. The hostesses were Mrs. S. B. Saylor, Mrs. W. H. Weir, Mrs. Emma Falconer, Mrs. Joe Mathews, Mrs. Thos. McGowan and Mrs. Brandt.

SOCIAL CLUB ANNUAL.

The annual supper given by the Social club, of which a dozen women of Bismarck have been members for the past seven years, was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Lahr last evening, with Mrs. John P. French as assisting hostess. The husbands of the members were the honor guests and bridge was the diversion of the evening. Following the play, the party drove to the capitol to watch the closing hours of the session, returning about midnight, to supper at the Lahr residence.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Halcrow entertained at dinner last night at the Grand Pacific in honor of old friends who were formerly residents of Pembina county. Covers were laid for nine, the guests being Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Anderson, Rev. and Mrs. Quigley, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Glosos, and Miss Irene Eastman.

TO ST. PAUL.

Miss Lella Diem, field representative of the immigration department, left for St. Paul today on an extended visit.

Guild On Wednesday.

As the regular meeting of the O. E. S. falls on Thursday, Mrs. W. S. Mitchell, president of St. George's Guild, announces that the meeting of the guild will be held on Wednesday at Guild hall, with Mrs. G. B. Hawley as hostess.

ASSISTING CUPID

"What will you have; blond or brunette?" Thus the love broker interrogates his prospective customer. He has all varieties and all are marvels of perfection with refined tastes and all feeling the cosmic urge that would lead them to the altar without the formalities of courtship.

These mercenary aids to Cupid are said to reap rich harvests bringing lonesome folk together. They charge all the traffic will bear and find it comparatively easy to cash in on the credulity of their clients.

And their clients are not few. Literally hundreds of men are said to be picking their wives from mail order catalogs.

The reason for this may be found in the spirit of adventure that is strong in man. Sally Brown the quiet little widow who lives across the way, is a mighty fine woman but he has known Sally all his life.

So the would-be benedict, longing for a bit of adventure, decides to take the "comely widow of 35, refined and gentle; sparkling black eyes and loving disposition."

He wants the adventure. Usually he gets it.

You ought to hear what Philadelphians are saying about the epidemic of sleeping sickness in New York.

BUT HERE WE ARE

"The world is going to the devil," has been a stock phrase of the pessimistic critic for some thousands of years.

But here we are, not gone there, not going there; in fact, growing better all the time.

There has been a good deal of criticism of modern dancing of late. But that only amuses Franklin H. Giddings, professor of sociology, of Columbia university.

Professor Giddings, who wrote a book called the "History of Civilization," seems pretty well-balanced.

"The attitude of those who oppose dancing," he says, "makes me feel that they are no longer young."

"Whether girls wear their skirts long or short makes about as much difference as whether a man parts his hair in the middle or on the side."

"As a matter of fact, present day morals are neither substantially higher nor lower than they were several generations ago."

Evidently Professor Giddings takes the position, contrary to the notion of some, that the world is not going to the devil. Certainly it is not. Nature has been working along present lines for some eons.

Many will appreciate the kind of mail service involved in the recent delivery at Superior, Wis., of a dun mailed eight years ago.

TEARS BEFORE SMILES

The average baby learns to cry before it can laugh. Tears may be shed as early as the 22nd day, according to Dr. John S. Huber New York physician, who has noted the high spots of a dawning life in his book, "Why Die So Young?" But not until the 26th day does baby smile!

Tears come easier than smiles.

That, however, isn't true only of babies. The average adult finds the road to tears shorter than the pathway to smiles.

Why?

Because the world has more woe than joy? More discord than happiness? More pain than pleasure?

Surely not!

But it is that the average human animal is more inclined to share his troubles than his delights. He wails loudly—and laughs inaudibly. And why does he do this? Selfishness, of course.

The baby, being a human, takes its share of human assets and human liabilities, smiles and and tears. It has followed generations of humans who have frowned oftener than they have smiled. Therefore, it is to be expected that baby would exhibit tears before smiles.

Would this be true, though, if for generations humans had laughed more often than they lamented? If they had revealed smiles and concealed sorrows?

Don't you think that a few generations of earthly smiles would make it possible for babies a few centuries hence to smile long before their 26th day?

Rhyming with Jap is as far as Yap will get if Uncle Sam has anything to say about it.

WHAT IS EFFICIENCY?

Efficiency is doing things, not wishing you could do them, or wondering if you can do them. It is knowing how to apply theory to practice, turning defeat into experience and using it to achieve success.

It is the ability to mass one's personality at any time or place and the elimination of weakness, regret, worry and fear.

It is self-reliance, clothed with modesty, persistence plus politeness and the hand of steel in the velvet glove.

Efficiency is alertness, presence of mind, readiness to adjust one's self to the unexpected, impugning the ego against the combination of events—luck, fate, custom and prejudice—until they give way.

It is purpose, practice, patience, the measure of a man, the real size of his soul, the ability to use one's passions, likes, dislikes, habits, experience, education, mind, body and heart and not to be used by these things.

It is self-mastery, concentration, vision and common sense, and the sum total of all that is in man.

Tennessee sees little to boast about in her average salary to rural school teachers, $258 a year.

REDUCED HOURS

The national Industrial Conference Board has just issued some interesting statistics on the matter of shorter hours.

These figures cover the collective experience of 436 manufacturing establishments employing 373,536 workers.

In 87.2 per cent of the establishments studied a reduction to a work week of 48 hours or less was accompanied by a decrease in weekly output per worker. In 8.7 per cent of the plants the workers were able to maintain weekly production per worker, and in 4.1 per cent weekly output per worker was increased.

It was found, the report says, that the character of the work, that is, whether the process was largely hand-work or machine work, for the most part determined whether or not it was possible to increase hourly output. In those industries, such as cotton manufacturing, where highly automatic machine processes predominated, the output was limited almost entirely to the speed of the machine.

But where hand-work predominated it was possible to increase the hourly output of the workers, in some cases to the extent of entirely compensating for the loss in work time and even exceeding the previous weekly production.

The report seems to prove:

- 1—Employees do better and faster work in a short-hour day.
- 2—There is need for better and faster machine processes.

It's a good thing for Fall and Fletcher that their appointments do not have to be submitted to the Mex senate.

"DON'T BE A BONEHEAD"

Which would you rather not be—deaf, dumb, or blind? What do you think is the greatest of these human afflictions? Supposing that you have none of them, which would you most dread having? But if you have none of them, you cannot know which is the greatest affliction.

Helen Keller knows!

She is not deaf, nor dumb, nor blind; yet she has not normal speech, as other humans have it; she has not sight as others have it; she has not hearing as other hear.

Yet she sees, hears, and talks!

Therefore she it is who, better than all other persons, can answer the question: Which is the greatest affliction, deafness, dumbness, blindness?

Miss Keller was asked that question, the other day in Cleveland.

She replied:

"None of them are the greatest affliction!"

Not deafness, nor dumbness, nor blindness!

"What then, is the greatest human affliction?"

Miss Keller was asked.

She replied:

"Boneheadedness!"

Let us think long and often about the question asked Miss Keller, and the answer she gave. And let us profit by it.

Not all the blind can learn to see. Few of the dumb can learn to talk. And many of the deaf never learn to hear well. To most of these it is physically and mentally impossible to see, hear and speak.

This is not true of the "boneheaded." They need not suffer with that affliction unless they want to. And, usually, they want to, because it requires work, mental and manual, to get out of the "bonehead" class.

Miss Keller is right; it is worse to be a bonehead than to be deaf, dumb AND blind!

Col. Watterson is enlivening the arid days of his retirement by upholding the anti-Shakespearean theory.

President Masaryk of Czecho-Slovakia, has phlebitis, but there's no cause for alarm; it's not as serious as plebsicitis.

It is understood that the new Indiana law against flirting is in fact an effort to make the Hoosier constables work themselves to death.

Big firms in all lines prefer Dakota-trained employees.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

AGAINST RECALL
Turtle Lake, N. Dak. 3-3-21
Editor-Tribune:

I am not in favor of Recall Elections. Let us give time for all the people of our state to help digest those bitter pills of state indebtedness by paying their share of taxation. It is the only way that our people will now learn. I would like to see a law that would make it impossible for any state or county to bond.

Is it or is it not a fact that the interest drawing money bond and stock systems are the primary cause of high cost of living.

Then why should we avoid that burden of taxation. If a recall comes, I shall not cast my vote. I shall never vote for bonding North Dakota. Let the people do what we did 37 years ago put up their houses with sod.

If the two parties of North Dakota would agree to give their ten and fifteen dollar campaign fund to build state owned factories then just think of what North Dakota would have in 25 years.

CONFIDENCE

THE greatest asset of a motion picture theatre is the confidence it builds among its patrons.

In Bismarck the management of the Eltinge and Bismarck Theatres has established this confidence to an unusual degree. If this were lost these theatres would lose their all.

Hence it is the policy of the Eltinge and Bismarck Theatres never to mar the confidence of patrons by offering pictures of inferior quality or by charging more than any film subject is worth.

APPEALING STORY PICTURED.

The novels of Sir Gilbert Parker, packed as the are with appealing love interest and red-blooded action, are excellent material for the movie makers. George Melford, the veteran producer of "The Sea Wolf," "Everywoman," "The Round Up," and other important pictures, has taken Sir Gilbert's popular "The Translation of a Savage," and made of it a picture play that has been hailed as one of the most meritorious of the current season. The screen version is called "Behold My Wife!" and will be shown at the Eltinge Theatre next Monday, March 7, at 7:45 P. M. for the election of officers and such other business as may come up at such meeting.

Country Club Meet
The adjourned annual meeting of the Bismarck Country Club will be held at the Commercial club Monday, Mar. 7, at 7:45 P. M. for the election of officers and such other business as may come up at such meeting.

TRAINED EXECUTIVE

Early in Life Showed Great
Skill in State
Craft

Washington, March 5.—Calvin Coolidge is the first Massachusetts man to hold the office of vice president since Henry Wilson served in the second Grant administration nearly half a century ago. His advent into office adds to the prominence of his state in national government affairs, for it is regarded as almost certain that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, will be again chosen as Republican leader in the senate, and Rep. Frederick H. Gillett as speaker of the house.

Should Mr. Gillett succeed himself, a Massachusetts man will preside over each branch of congress, a most unusual coincidence. More unusual still is the fact that both Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Gillett come from the same Congressional District, Northampton, the home of the vice president being in the same district as Springfield, the home of the speaker. Both men are graduates of Amherst College.

Vice President Coolidge is entering upon his first service in the field of national politics, but for 20 years he has been active in the political service of his state, rising from membership in the council of his city to governor of the commonwealth.

In Tactfulness
In some respects Mr. Coolidge is a figure strange in American public life, being tactful to a degree and apparently shunning the spot light and the glamor which usually surrounds high public officials. To his most intimate friends he is known as "Silent Cal." It is related in illustration of this characteristic that a personal and political friend who had conferred with him in his executive offices at Boston without receiving more than monosyllabic answers finally quit the office in disgust, exclaiming as he came out: "By George, I'd like to be that fellow's stenographer."

But after all, holding public office comes naturally enough to the new vice president. For generations, ever since his forebears settled in Water-town, Mass., in 1820 and later went to the rough, backwoods section of Vermont where he was born on Independence Day, 1872, his family has been identified with public affairs. His father served in the Vermont state legislature and on governor's staffs and for years has been known as a sort of unofficial magistrate and counselor in his section. It was the crowning event of the father's life to witness today the inauguration of his son.

Taste For State Craft
By Intellectual preference Vice President Coolidge has since early youth demonstrated a taste for problems of statecraft. As a senior at Amherst he won the $150 gold medal in competition with students of all American colleges for the best essay on an historical subject, which in his case was "The Principles of the American Revolution." Burke and other political leaders of intellectual distinction have always been his favorites and he has studied carefully their writings.

It was this intensive study of affairs of state that first attracted to him the attention of prominent state public leaders, notably the late Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts. For a number of years these watched the development of his career with a view to directing him into the national political arena. Their opportunity came when the spectacular Boston police strike, during his first term as governor, attracted nationwide attention.

Crisis Precipitated
The crisis which was precipitated by the strike, according to these friends, merely revealed the powers and courage of the man, and they frankly and openly seized the opportunity to press for him claims for the Republican presidential nomination at Chicago last June. They pointed out that as a councillor in his home city and later as city solicitor and mayor, as a member of both branches of the legislature including a year as president of the senate and then as lieutenant governor and finally as governor he had been elected with ever increasing majorities eliminating in the vote of confidence after the police strike when he was again elected governor by a plurality of 128,000.

Probably the most attractive part of Mr. Coolidge is his home life. Ever since his marriage 15 years ago, to Miss Grace Goodhue, of Burlington, Vt., a University of Vermont graduate whom he met as a school teacher in Northampton, he has lived a quiet, modest life, most of the time in the shadow of Smith College in a house which he has rented for $32.50 a month.

"Say, no matter what your salary may be," has always been his motto and, as he has enjoyed the income earned in public office only meagre returns from his law practice because of pressure of public duties, he has been obliged and content to live simply. There are two boys in their early teens, but all do their bit, even to mowing the lawn.

During Mr. Coolidge's official residence at Boston he and Mrs. Coolidge lived in apartments at a hotel, as they will do here in Washington, while the boys have been away at school. In dress, too, Mr. Coolidge has been not extravagant, although always immaculately attired and not given to use of the threadbare, whatever the popular impression to the contrary may be.

His coming to Washington means the presence of a man, who, his friends say, personifies the best of American standards, not given much to social life, perhaps, but a thorough student, a hard worker and a clear-headed, solid American.

There are 10 stringers of pearls in London.

NO WONDER HE SMILES!—Above picture shows how Pilot Jack Knight looked when he landed in Chicago after a remarkable flight from Cheyenne, Wyo. He was the hero of the coast-to-coast air mail flight that smashed all records, making it in 33 hours, 10 minutes. The previous best time was 72 hours. The solid black line in the chart shows the jump he covered by night, through fog and snow.

HOUSE PROBE ATTORNEY GETS JAIL SENTENCE

committee, seconded it. The motion was lost.

Senator Baker then declared that he had talked with Attorneys Sullivan and Murphy, and Marshall Hendrickson, and that all three had agreed that they would honor a subpoena and appear before the senate committee. They refused to do this, he said, and a warrant was then issued. "I don't care," he said, "whether Mr. Sullivan is cited for contempt or not. They have shown all that I wanted them to show."

Senator Baker then moved that he be adjudged to be in contempt of the senate. Senator Liedersbach seconded the motion.

The activities up to this time had been good-natured and little bitterness has been injected. The atmosphere at this point changed, however, and became tense with physical hostilities threatening.

Senator Liedersbach remarked that Mr. Murphy showed yellow when he went out.

"Say to His Face."
"I would suggest that you say that to his face," retorted Sullivan.

"I will," replied Senator Liedersbach, who then arose and addressing the chair declared:

"We have had enough horse play. I ask for the question. If this man doesn't want to answer any questions we should have him arrested and placed in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms."

"Aren't you going to give the defendant," said Mr. Sullivan, addressing Mr. Wood, "an opportunity to say anything?"

"No," said Secretary Prater, continuing call.

Put on Clinches
Senator Floyd and several others changed their vote from no to aye so that they might reconsider. The vote was 27 to 21.

Senator Baker shouted the clincher motion. Senator Baird of Stark, rose to a point of order that he was out of his place when he made the motion. Presiding Officer Wood upheld him. But through a combination of other motions the lieutenant governor patched together a clincher motion which was adopted.

Level of Kangaroo Court.
Senator Floyd moved that this be reconsidered. Senator Murphy remarked that the house committee had been charged by many of the senators with being a kangaroo court, but he insisted with heat that the senate was now degrading itself into a real kangaroo court. The motion was lost.

Governor Wood ordered the sergeant-at-arms to take Mr. Sullivan in custody. As Mr. Mineover approached him, the house committee attorney, standing directly in front of Senator Liedersbach, thrust his face forward at the senator from Dunn, and shaking his fist shouted:

"I want you to know that I had agreed on this action before I came here and all of the Nonpartisans from Hudson Bay to A— couldn't make me do different."

Not in Rotunda.
The mob in the rotunda made it impossible for the sergeant-at-arms with safety to appear with his prisoner and follow out the senate's orders to lodge him in the county jail, so that he was taken in the senate cloak room and from there sneaked into the south corner room of the attorney general's suite.

Habeas Corpus.
There with curtains drawn, the prisoner was kept in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms and assistants, with Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Murphy to console him.

Judge Birdzell was a spectator. W. H. Stutsman of Mandan, a member of the railroad commission, and Alfred Zuger spotted him. They got him to sit in chambers until a writ of habeas corpus could be prepared. With the assistance of E. S. Johnson, state's attorney of Sioux county, it was quickly prepared.

J. E. Campbell of Glendive, was appointed an officer of the court, to serve it. Now began the search to find the prisoner. They sought him at the county jail, but he was not on the register there.

Prisoner Is Found.
After a prolonged search they spied

a little glare of yellow light through the tightly drawn curtains in the attorney general's office. Mr. Campbell pounced on the window, flashing the writ at the sergeant-at-arms. The officer of the senate did not pay any attention to it.

Prepare to Smash In.
Mr. Campbell with aids prepared to smash their way in. This caused a reversal of sentiment and the door was opened. Mr. Mineover and his prisoner were escorted through the rotunda, which had been deserted by the crowd following an unsuccessful attempt to stage a free for all that had petered out after Leaguers and anti-Leaguers had exchanged a few minor blows and taken to the chambers of Judge Birdzell.

Has Attorneys.
Mr. Sullivan was represented by Attorneys Sullivan, Johnson and Zuger. They argued that Mr. Sullivan should be released on these three grounds:

Matters of which the senate wanted information were obtained in a confidential capacity and were therefore protected by statute.

The ethics of the profession agree that no information shall be made a matter of public knowledge.

The senate had no jurisdiction over the activities of the house committee. Before the arguments had been completed, the sergeant-at-arms had declared that he had a statement to make. Judge Birdzell ruled that he must wait until the examination was completed.

Mr. Mineover then read from a letter which had been handed him. It was from the senate and directed him to release the prisoner. Judge Birdzell, however, had his decision that Mr. Sullivan was illegally held placed in the record.

State Hendrickson testified. He said that he had filed a bill of $510, including per diem of $10 a day and expenses.

WOMEN WHO CANNOT WORK

Read Mrs. Corley's Letter and Benefit by Her Experience

Edmund, S.C.—"I was run down with nervousness and female trouble and suffered every month. I was not able to do any work and tried a lot of medicine, but got no relief. I saw your medicine advertised in a little book that was thrown in my door, and I had not taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I could see it was helping me. I am keeping house now and am able to do all of my work. I cannot say enough for your medicine. It has done more for me than any doctor. I have not paper enough to tell you how much it has done for me and for my friends. You may print this letter if you wish."

—ELIZABETH C. CORLEY, care of A. P. Corley, Edmund, S.C.

Ability to stand the strain of work is the privilege of the strong and healthy, but how our hearts ache for the weak and sickly women struggling with their daily rounds of household duties with backaches, headaches, nervousness and almost every movement brings a new pain. Why will not the mass of letters from women all over this country, which we have been publishing, convince such women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help them just as surely as it did Mrs. Corley?

The one thing above all others that every depositor wants and every real banker seeks to provide.

SAFETY

The old line burglary insurance companies recognizing the value, safety and effectiveness of this Burglar Alarm System, are reducing our premium costs 50%.

We have a safe place to keep your Liberty Bonds and other valuables as well as to do your general banking business. 4% paid on Savings Accounts.

So many things are happening these days that it isn't safe to think you have done your best YOU MUST KNOW IT.

With this thought in mind we began to look into the question of the proper protection of our vaults against burglary and our bank against day-light hold-up.

The banks of the Central West have done their share in "feeding the burglar" during the past few years and so far as we are concerned we do not intend to contribute a penny toward the support of any bank robber, no matter how clever he may be.

$500 REWARD

IN CASH will be paid by the O. B. McClintock Co., of Minneapolis, Minn., for the capture and conviction of any person or persons attempting to burglarize or rob this bank.

To back up this determination, we have just installed the Most Complete Burglar Alarm and the only Thermo-Electric Protection System possible to buy.

This system protects our entire vault against every kind of attack possible for burglars to make.

You will understand the reason why we feel so confident about our safety after you have seen the way this system operates.

The manufacturers fully guarantee this system cannot be defeated by the most expert burglar.
